Dr. Gary Chapman, best selling author of The Five Love Languages, invites you to a laughter-filled, thought-provoking event that can literally change the course of your marriage! You'll enjoy realistic and candid discussions on topics that really hit home with every married couple—communication, sex, intimacy, and more. And you'll do so with one of America's most educated and experienced family counselors.

Whether you're getting married soon or you've been married for years, the Toward A Growing Marriage conference will give you solutions that can make a difference in your marriage. With sound biblical advice, Dr. Chapman gets you and your spouse laughing and thinking about how to break unhealthy patterns and how to grow your relationship into a happier, healthier marriage.
A personal invitation from Dr. Gary Chapman

Why should you attend a marriage conference? First, to keep your own marriage growing. Marriages either get better or they get worse. They never stand still. Most people prefer a growing marriage. Secondly, to equip you to minister to other couples who turn to you for help. In the church and in the work place, people turn to friends long before they go to a counselor. Toward A Growing Marriage conferences give you insight on how to help.

Personally, I have a third objective: I want to share a vision for starting or developing marriage enrichment in your church. I believe that biblically-based marriage enrichment is the key to saving thousands of marriages.

The conference is filled with lots of humor and practical insights based on sound biblical principles. In today's cultural climate, we cannot afford to neglect our marriages. Engaged couples are also invited, as well as married couples of all ages. I promise that you will laugh, and I sincerely believe that you will learn. I encourage you to register today.
